

RAY PADDOCK SAYS STRATTON WAS AID AT ELECTION TIME

Senator-elect Freely Admits Indebtedness To New Secretary.

William J. Stratton will be honored at a banquet inauguration day, but he has been honored by words—words spoken by Ray Paddock, Wauconda, elected to membership in the upper house of the 56th general assembly.

Senator-elect Paddock freely admits his indebtedness to Mr. Stratton. "The factors responsible for my nomination and election," he said, "were the friendship of William J. Stratton, who is a life-long friend, the Lake county officials, and board of supervisors, who supported me to a man, the friends who interested themselves in my behalf in Boone and McHenry counties, and the several fraternal orders of which I am a member."

Stratton Is Made Vice President of National Bank

Secretary of State Elect Is Chosen at Meeting of Shareholders.

Hon. William J. Stratton, secretary of state-elect, was honored with another office yesterday when he was elected to the vice presidency of the First National Bank of Antioch at the meeting of shareholders.

The assemblage was addressed by Chas. K. Anderson, G. Carroll Gridley, Libertyville, and Robt. C. Aht. Stockholders expressed themselves as being well pleased with the very efficient management the bank has been under since its organization two years ago, and with the very marked increase in business during the year just closed.

After making due allowances for the reserve and depreciation funds, dividend checks for 6 per cent were issued to the shareholders on Jan. 1.

Officers were re-elected: Chas. K. Anderson, president; Robt. C. Aht, vice-president; Wm. A. Rosling, vice-president; S. Boyer Nelson, cashier; Mr. Stratton, being honored for election to the vice-presidency for the first time. The following directors were re-elected: Chas. K. Anderson, Robert C. Aht, Wm. A. Rosling, Dr. H. G. Hardt, G. Carroll Gridley, W. R. Williams, Geo. S. Wedge, Herbert J. Vos and William J. Stratton.

GOVERNOR LEN SMALL GIVES LAST FORMAL MESSAGE TO BODY

Document Is Required By Law; Offers Opportunity
For Expression.

Springfield, January 10—Governor Len Small yesterday submitted his last formal message to the 56th general assembly as chief executive of Illinois.

The document was 160 pages in length. It is required by law. Governor Small advised the newly elected legislators of conditions in the state, and reviewed some of the factors with which he had come in contact during the eight years he has served as head of Illinois government.

New Tailoring Shop Is Opened In Town

Announcement is made today of the opening of a new tailoring shop in Antioch in the Morley building, Main street. Joe Chiappa is the proprietor, and will do cleaning, pressing, dyeing, shoe repairing, shoe shining.

Mr. Chiappa also operates an establishment in Libertyville.

TIRED OF LIVING

Found lying injured across a bed in his cottage at Long Lake Mendota, William Murron, 52, told neighbors that he had shot himself because he had no friends and was tired of living. He said he was glad to know that he would not recover from his wounds, but he was sorry he had not died sooner.

Imagine Eighteen Yards in One Dress! Late Paris Fashion Decried—in 1870

Literature, art and fashion. All these are included in copies of Peterson's Ladies National Magazine, published in the 1870's—copies which have been stored in the treasure chest of one of Antioch's oldest families.

And how interesting these magazines are! Each month the reader received the magazine which carried "mammoth colored fashion plates" as well as colored patterns for crochet, knitting, and embroidery—colored designs for slippers, sofa cushions, and chair seats, receipts for cooking, the toilette, and sick room; always new and fashionable music, and articles on the flower garden, window gardening, etiquette, and equestrianism—everything interesting to ladies.

And speaking of fashions! Les modes Parisiennes—fashions in all their glory. And how about this for a simple and stylish costume for the street, of camel's hair cloth. In dark blue or brown? Or it may be made of bourette, which is the heavy mixed woolen fabric so popular this season (March, 1874) and to be had at all prices from 20 cents to the high price of four dollars a yard. Peterson's fashion writer continues:

"Our design has a demit-trained skirt, trimmed with a knit plaiting seven inches deep. Above this is a flat band, cut on the bias, and bound on both edges with plain material to form, in front, a rounded tablier, and at the back one breadth of material is tucked in fastened to the skirt, and at the back one breadth of material is used and it forms a shawl, shaped and caught back with a Bretonian band. This is bound and edged with a bias band, like those above the knitting. Plain cultrass bodice, with coat sleeves and standing collar, closed with steel or smoke pearl buttons. Sixteen yards of single width goods is required for the medium woman."

Take Your Choice

And a dinner toilette of brown or blue silk: "The design would be charming for a young lady in light blue or pink cashmere. It is a Princess. The fronts are cut long enough to admit of the festooning, which is fastened and kept in place on an under lining. The fronts and sides are ornamented by buttons. From this seam and coming from under the front trimming there is some fullness, which extends to the back width, forming the train, which is trimmed with 13 narrow ruffles, either gathered or plaited; but quite full. These are simply trimmed on the edge. Close-fitting coat sleeves, trimmed with a corresponding ruffle at the head, headed by a band and a bow of ribbon to match. Turn-over collar lined with white, pale blue, or pink silk, in which cases the ribbons will match the collar. A full ruche of Valenciennes lace at the throat and extending down the front of the dress to the waist, forming a cascade, making a very dressy toilette. Six dozen buttons are required, and 17 to 18 yards of 27 inch silk."

Remember The Child

Peterson's writer goes on: "For a little girl of six, a Bretonian costume similar to the one just described, may be repeated—with but little alteration."

MORE TESTING DONE IN LAKE CO. HERDS

To place Lake county on the accredited list of counties entirely free from bovine T. B. at the earliest possible date, six state veterinarians started to work Tuesday in this county to assist Dr. T. V. Gallahue in making a complete test of all herds.

It is the plan to test every herd in the county, excepting herds that have been tested within the last 60 days or dating from November 1, 1928.

The new city directory for Springfield shows the Capital City has a population of 77,024, including 6,000 just outside the city's limits.

Actors In Spoken Drama Make Hit at Crystal Theatre

Rotnour's Players Are To Be Attraction Here
Every Tuesday.

A splendid dramatic theme, side-splitting vaudeville stunts, mirth and pathos throughout, featured the opening performance of J. B. Rotnour's players at the Crystal theatre Tuesday night.

Notwithstanding the many inconveniences always attending a first night performance, and handicapped by having to use a smaller stage than the company is used to, the play was very cleverly done.

"The Awakening of John Slater" was a real play, and it was staged by real actors, an all-star cast that has been with "J. B.'s" company for the last year. "I have paid three dollars to see a much inferior show," remarked one pleased customer as he left the theatre, and he was only one of the many who voiced their pleasure at seeing the return of the spoken drama to Antioch, and with such a high class outfit as Rotnour's players.

Mr. Rotnour has arranged a seven-town circuit and plans to have his company play at the Crystal every Tuesday night. Next Tuesday night the company is bringing to the Crystal "The Lure of the City," a four-act drama with plenty of good, clean comedy. Curtain at 8:15.

STATE BANK HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Usual Business Transacted;
Dividend Is Declared
Yesterday.

Officers elected by the stockholders of the State Bank of Antioch at the annual meeting held Wednesday afternoon are: J. E. Brook, president; Chase Webb, vice-president; F. B. Kennedy, vice-president; W. F. Ziegler, cashier; and George Bartlett, assistant cashier. Mr. Kennedy fills a vacancy left by the resignation of E. E. Brook.

Directors for this year are: J. E. Brook, Chase Webb, Charles Sibley, Conrad Buschmann, J. W. Lablanc, William Hillebrand and W. F. Ziegler.

The usual business was transacted at the meeting. Three thousand five hundred dollars was set aside for taxes. The customary percentage of depreciation was allowed on banking house building and fixtures, after which a six per cent dividend was declared. Reports showed the year to be a prosperous one.

Fire this morning destroyed the cottage belonging to Mr. and Mrs. John Nixon, Antioch. The cottage was located at the north end of Bluff Lake. The Antioch Volunteer Fire department answered the alarm turned in at 9 o'clock.

It is the belief that some one had occupied the cottage during last night, and had had a fire, from which the blaze to the cottage resulted, as the fire started from the inside. The damage is covered by insurance.

THREE ANTIOCH BOYS ARE TO BE HONORED HERE MONDAY NIGHT

Court Of Honor Will Be Held Following Club Dinner.

Three Antioch and 15 Waukegan Boy Scouts will receive merit badges Monday night following the regular Business club dinner to the local high school building.

Antioch boys to be honored are: Harold Nelson, Bob King, and John Dupre. Since the American Legion is in charge of the Boy Scout work in Antioch, Legion members will be present in a body for the Court of Honor session.

Speakers will be Judge Perry Pearson, Waukegan, and Victor Hulse, assistant state's attorney, Waukegan.

THREE TOWN SCHOOL PROJECT IS CARRIED

Antioch, Lake Villa, And Grant Voters Approve Of Plan At Polls.

Organization of a three town community high school project, and the election of trustees for the district will be taken up soon with T. A. Simpson, county superintendent of schools. Mr. Simpson will set the date for the election of trustees since by a vote of more than two to one Saturday the three town school project carried in Grant, Lake Villa and Antioch towns.

Two hundred and thirty-three voters cast ballots at the polls in Ingleside—the only polls established. There were 163 votes in favor of the project and 65 opposed. This was the second time the community high school had been approved, but the first election was void since a small part of McHenry county was included.

Former Resident of this Community Glad to be Back in Mission Field

"Home again! home again! home in Ballunde after my long wanderings," writes Miss Una J. Minto of Ballunde, West Africa, sister of Harold Minto of Maple Farm, Antioch, and former Director of Religious Education in the Evanston Congregational church, of which she is a member.

Miss Minto is also supported in her work under the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, which represents the Congregational churches of America, by the Congregational Churches in Port Huron, Richmond, Romeo, and St. Clair, Michigan.

"The hearty welcome of the natives and of my fellow-missionaries has been most cheering and heart-warming. Tomorrow I shall be again in the schoolroom, deep in the work I love best of all, teaching those boys and girls who are so eager to learn."

Mrs. Garland Dies
Here Wednesday;
75 Years of Age

Had Been In Failing Health
For Three Years; Leaves
One Son.

Heart failure caused the death of Mrs. Susan Garland, 75, at her home on Victoria street, Wednesday morning at 8:15 o'clock.

Mrs. Garland has been in failing health for the last three years. She was born in Salem township, but for 27 years had made her home in Antioch. Her husband preceded her in death 11 years ago. One son, George Garland, is left.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence. The Rev. A. M. Krah and S. E. Pollock will be in charge of the services, with L. G. Strang as undertaker.

POULTRY SPECIALIST TO CONDUCT SCHOOL

Causes and Cures of Disease
Will Be Discussed
In Russell.

Proper housing for poultry, the health of the birds, and the causes and cures of various diseases, will be discussed at a Poultry School to be conducted in Russell January 18, beginning at 8 o'clock at night. Dr. G. Graham, well-known poultry specialist, will be in charge. The school is to be sponsored by the William Murrie company, Russell, co-operating with the Albert Dickason company, Chicago.

Chickens suffering from disease may be brought to the meeting where treatments will be discussed.

New Sandwich Shop Is To Be Opened Tomorrow.

Informal opening of his new sandwich shop next to the Sinclair filling station, opposite the postoffice, has been announced by Clyde R. Wentworth, proprietor, for Friday.

Sandwiches, soups, redhots, and coffee will be served from 11 o'clock each morning until midnight.

Mr. Wentworth plans to have a formal opening later. He will have a contest for naming the establishment. The building has been patterned after the national diners. The latest model machine for making toasted sandwiches has been installed.

UNITY OF EFFORT IS SOUGHT

Spirit Of Helpfulness Is Essential To Progress,
Says Banker.

Harmonious unification of community interests with the idea progress in all business and professional channels, was the keynote thought in an address by Chas. K. Anderson last night before an audience of fifty representative citizens of the town and community assembled at the Antioch Hotel as dinner guests of Mr. Anderson.

"In my experience I have noted that the best advertised towns that have a reputation for doing things almost invariably have a live organization of some kind to intelligently direct the affairs of the community," Mr. Anderson said, stressing the necessity of keeping the Antioch Business club functioning and alive to all community problems relating to progress. "I believe it is the duty of every business and professional man in town to become a member of a community organization," continued Mr. Anderson, "and the service rendered by such a body as the Antioch Business club should also extend to the farmers to help them solve their problems."

FARMERS RELY MOST ON DEALERS TO GET HELP IN SELECTION

Agriculture Workers Are Interviewed; Results
Made Known.

Farmers rely more on the local dealer in selecting grades of fertilizer than on the county agricultural agent, the farm paper, and the agricultural college combined.

This information is revealed in the summary of replies of 48,094 farmers in 34 states.

Farmers were personally interviewed during the past summer in all states east of the Mississippi river, and in Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

The question which indicates the strong reliance of the farmer upon the local dealer, and which was one of 26 major questions and numerous sub-questions asked each farmer, was uniformly presented in the following language:

"In selecting the grades of fertilizer that you use, which of the following has helped you most: your dealer, your county agent, your farm paper or your agricultural college?"

The summary of the 48,094 replies in 34 states follows: dealer, 65.4 per cent; farm paper, 14.9; county agent, 12.7 and agricultural college, 7.1.

Allendale Lad Is Pneumonia Victim

Pneumonia claimed another victim Monday when Lyle Cleveland, eleven year old student at the Allendale school succumbed to the disease after a brief illness. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Pollock, and interment was in the Lake Villa cemetery.

The lad was an orphan, his nearest relative being his grandmother who lives in Iowa.

KEEP CHILDREN BUSY,
LECTURER-MOTHER
ADVISES

"Know where your children are." This was the theme of an address given at an institute meeting not so long ago. The address was made by an eminent speaker, home-maker, and home-lover. She said in part:

"Find out what your boy likes and keep him busy. My son had always loved tools and mechanics. When very small he had a toy set of tools, and when he was five years old, we bought him a set of real tools. We had a box made and bought each tool of a good material, but small in size. I cannot tell you the pleasure he had in making bird houses, airplanes, small pieces of furniture, etc. I always knew where to find him. He also had a coping saw—and a whole menagerie of animals sawed from cigar boxes. He also loves mechanical building toys, and buying such things for him, I consider a good investment."

"My daughters both love to read and love music. I keep them well supplied with good books and magazines as well as music. They are quite interested in sewing and fancy work, so I keep several pieces on hand. They love to make candy, and I am always happy to have them in the kitchen. Through the school and Sunday school, as well as the home, they are always kept interested in good, wholesome work and entertainment."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 6.

The Golden Text was, "The Lord is the true God, he is the living God, and an everlasting king" (Jeremiah 10:10).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord: And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might" (Deuteronomy 6:4, 5).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God is one. The allness of Deity is His oneness. . . . It is generally conceded that God is Father, eternal, self-created, infinite" (p. 207).

ALL ABOUT WHAT THE LITTLE CHILDREN ARE DOING IN ANIMAL WORLD

BY V. LUDEL BODEN

"I want to have a birthday party," Tiny-Iny Chipmunk said to his mother the other morning.

"Well, Tiny-Iny," Mrs. Chipmunk replied, "I don't know that I object." "Me want one, too," Tiny-Iny's baby sister, Mitzl-Itzl said, "me want one the same day Tiny-Iny has one."

Mrs. Chipmunk laughed and laughed and laughed.

"Why, Mitzl-Itzl," she said, "you can't have a birthday party because your birthday won't be until next summer."

"Oh!" Mitzl-Itzl said, not knowing whether she understood what it was all about or not. She looked puzzled for a minute then said:

"If I can't have a party of my own, I can help give one for Tiny-Iny can't it?"

"Bless your heart yes," Mrs. Chipmunk said, glad to see that Mitzl-Itzl wasn't going to be disappointed. "Then when your birthday comes Tiny-Iny and I will have a great big party for you."

Mitzl-Itzl was so happy she ran out of the house to tell all of her friends that she was going to have a birthday party, but that Tiny-Iny was going to have one first because Tiny-Iny was going to be a year older before she was a year older.

And my! how busy Tiny-Iny, Mitzl-Itzl and Mrs. Chipmunk have been getting ready for the party. First there were the invitations to write. The invitations are printed on small cards the shape of a nut. (That's because Chipmunks like nuts better than anything else.) On the nut-shaped cards is this little rhyme:

"Friday I'm having a party,
Three o'clock's the time of day,
You are most cordially invited,
Come and be happy and gay."

Then there was the question what to have for favors, what to have for decorations, and what to have to eat. And in the midst of all the confusion, guess what happened! The Chipmunk family was sitting at dinner and the doorbell rang—a long ring.

"Wonder who that is?" Mr. Chipmunk wanted to know. In a minute, Nodd-o-da, the maid, returned with a telegram.

"Hmmm," Mr. Chipmunk said, "probably this is some important business matter that must be attended to right away."

"Oh, I do hope no one has died or none of our relatives are ill," Mrs. Chipmunk exclaimed excitedly.

"What's it about? What's it about?" Tiny-Iny and Mitzl-Itzl questioned together.

Mr. Chipmunk read: "To the Chipmunk Family,—"

"That means me, too, doesn't it?" Tiny-Iny interrupted.

"Don't interrupt, dear," Mrs. Chipmunk said, "but it does mean you, too. Now go on reading, father."

Mr. Chipmunk continued: "To the Chipmunk Family, 1228 Walnut Tree Apartments, Animal Land."

Will arrive tomorrow to pay you a visit. I am bringing my two children with me.

Auntie Joy.

"Then our cousins, Sweetie and Mitzl-Itzl will be here for the party, won't they?" Mitzl-Itzl wanted to know. Really, boys and girls, Mitzl-Itzl is much more interested in the party than Tiny-Iny is.

"Yes," Mrs. Chipmunk said, "and now I know one thing we can have for refreshments, for Auntie Joy makes the best Angel Food cakes I ever tasted—fancy ones with pink icing."

"Well, well," Mr. Chipmunk said, "we all certainly are glad to have Auntie Joy and the children visit us."

"Will they give me birthday presents?" Tiny-Iny asked, although he shouldn't have said anything about it even if he did think it.

"Tiny-Iny, you shouldn't think of things like that," Mrs. Chipmunk said, while Daddy Chipmunk held the evening paper in front of his face so no one could see he was laughing.

"Well, I think it," Tiny-Iny explained, and Tiny-Iny has the most trouble saying "thought" instead of "think."

"Anyhow, we must all help get ready for our guests," Mrs. Chipmunk said, and everyone started to work to straighten the rooms, to get out the guest towels, and to fix everything so that Auntie Joy and her children would be comfortable.

That night when the children were put to bed, Mitzl-Itzl said drowsily:

"This is just about as good as Christmas only better, isn't it?" And Tiny-Iny and Mr. and Mrs. Chipmunk agreed.

FARMER OF ILLINOIS
BOOSTS GRAIN PROFIT WITHIN THREE YEARS

Treatment Of Rock Phosphate Is Responsible For Increase.

Urbana, January 10—After boosting his wheat profits $13 an acre when first used three years ago, a soil treatment of rock phosphate costing only $6 an acre is still producing results for Jake Herman, an Effingham county farmer, according to a report by C. M. Linsley, assistant professor in soils extension at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Anxious to find out for himself whether or not his land needed rock phosphate, Herman first used the material in the fall of 1925. He applied it at the rate of 800 pounds an acre on half of a five-acre field that was to be sown to wheat. The rock phosphate was applied on top of the plowed ground and worked in with the working down of the seed bed. The phosphate half threshed out 35 bushels to the acre while the untreated half yielded only 20 bushels to the acre. This increase of 15 bushels an acre was worth $19, leaving a net profit of around $13 an acre when the cost of the treatment, $6 an acre, was deducted.

Benefits of the treatment did not stop there, however, for the wheat crop had used only a small part of the phosphorus in the 800 pounds an acre of rock phosphate. Last year this field was in corn. Although the halves of the field were not husked separately to measure the actual difference in growth, maturity, and quality of the grain.

This past season this same field was in oats. The phosphate half of the field could be distinguished as far as one could see the grain. (Oats on the half of the field treated with rock phosphate were six to eight inches higher and had a darker green color than the crop on that part of the field that was not phosphate.) Herman estimated that the phosphate half of the field produced 15 bushels more to the acre than the unphosphated.

"Herman's experience further disproves the mistaken idea held by some farmers that the phosphorus in rock phosphate is slowly available and that they must wait two or three years for results. On land where phosphate is needed, some farmers are getting outstanding results in the first crop. However, it must be remembered that soils vary widely in their response to phosphate treatment," specialists say.

FEWER PERSONS RIDE
TRAINS DURING LAST YEAR FIGURES SHOW

Less Passengers Carried
Than In Any Period
Since 1905.

Waukegan, January 10—American railroads carried fewer passengers in 1928 than in any other one year since 1905, according to C. D. Morris, of the Western Railways' Committee on Public Relations, Chicago, in an address before the Lion's Club here last night. "The number of persons riding on passenger trains steadily increased each year from 1890 to 1920," continued the speaker, "in which latter year the railroads carried more passengers than in any one other year in their history. The number of passengers then began to decline and has continued to do so ever since. In 1905 the roads carried 739,000,000 passengers; in 1920, 270,000,000, and in 1928, 787,000,000."

"This is a matter of grave concern to the people, who are dependent upon good passenger service as well as satisfactory freight service. Today they have the best passenger service they ever enjoyed. The railroads, in the last decade, have not only greatly improved their freight service, to the great benefit of the people, but have likewise greatly improved their passenger service. Their passenger service, on the whole, is not only faster, safer and more comfortable than ever before, but it is more dependable and is furnished at a lower rate than has been charged since 1920. The population of the country has also steadily increased in the last decade, so that it might reasonably be expected that passenger travel would increase, instead of which it continues to decrease each year."

"The occasion for this situation is no doubt the very large increase in travel in private motor cars and public motor buses. This travel has grown very rapidly in recent years, due largely to the great increase in the mileage of hard-surfaced highways, which have been built by taxation, in which the railroads have heavily shared. If the public motor buses served to provide transportation facilities to communities not hitherto having them they would thus provide a needed service. The facts are however, that a very large majority of these buses are operated in direct competition with the railroads and are, to some extent at least, subsidized by state or federal taxation or by both because they do not pay adequately for the use of the highways."

photo is needed, some farmers are getting outstanding results in the first crop. However, it must be remembered that soils vary widely in their response to phosphate treatment," specialists say.

REPAIRING ON ALL MAKES OF CARS

CITIES NEED GARAGES
AS PARKING SPACES ARE NOT ADEQUATE

High Buildings For Storing Cars Are Becoming a Necessity.

With automobiles at a high state of perfection, improvement in motor portation must come about largely through the betterment of car facilities. Of the hindrances to motoring comfort, one of the most irritating and prevalent is the absence of parking places.

Seventeen American cities have curb parking space for only six per cent of the 1,425,000 automobiles that enter the business districts daily, according to a recent survey of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers.

This proves what the forlorn motorist has long suspected. Further, it calls to mind that parking cannot be properly banned unless some place is provided for cars. Many cities have established parking areas at nominal fees on unoccupied land. Frequently private land owners use vacant property to good advantage by selling parking privileges.

But all these stops, although helpful are inadequate. If full use of the automobile in downtown areas is to be made in both large and small cities, downtown garages must be built.

Typical of the garages that will soon be found in great numbers in downtown sections, is the Tilt Garage of Los Angeles. Ordinarily the 78 by 155-foot building site would provide space for but six dozen or so cars. But with the erection of a 13-story garage, this ground area permits 850 motor owners to store their machines.

The first two floors of the Hill garage are reached by ramps, sloping runways, up which the cars are driven. The upper floors are attained by special elevators equipped with turntables so that the cars may be taken from the elevators and shifted about in any of three directions without waste of space.

Skyscrapers are coming into style also with several in service in larger cities. The Chicago Tower Building will have equipment for handling 1,100 cars. Fortunately not all of the 25,000 tenants of this building will drive to work in cars.

One third of all automobiles are in towns and cities of over 25,000 population. On Saturday night there are even more. At present there is neither street nor garage space for these cars near their destinations. Garages must supplement parking plazas and wide streets.

AID ON HIGHWAYS FROM GOVERNMENT SHOWS DECREASE

$3.10 Per Car Is Amount Of Federal Aid In United States In 1928.

An average of $3.10 per automobile was expended by the federal government in the United States during 1928 on its federal-aid highway program, according to data compiled by the American Motorists' association, in co-operation with the Automobile club of Illinois.

The per capita amount that the federal government is contributing towards the construction of the 187,000 mile program of Federal-aid highway is decreasing each year, the government expended $95,000,000 on its highway construction program. In 1921 the Federal appropriation for Federal-aid was $100,000,000 but the amount of expenditure per vehicle was $9.95.

Traffic Warrants Increased Aid Increased automobile registrations, averaging nearly two million annually, the association declares, warrants an increase in the Federal Government's share of the highway construction program of the country. In 1919 the vehicle registration was 7,565,445 cars and trucks. During that year the Federal Government expended $65,000,000 on highways.

Despite the fact that the registrations during the succeeding nine years will have increased the approximately 24,000,000 by the end of this year, the Federal Government's contribution towards Federal-aid has increased but ten million, being $75,000,000 during the current year, S. Mayer, vice-president of the association and president of the Automobile club of Illinois points out.

"One of the economic features of highway construction is that the public pays for good roads whether they have them or not. This is as true of a nation as it is of an individual. The American Motorists' association believes that with registrations increasing approximately three times as fast as the highway building programs of the country, added impetus in the form of increased Federal-aid should be given by the Federal Government in order to keep pace with the growing demand for more roads," Vice-President Mayer declared.

Vehicles increase rapidly Figures compiled by the association show that there are at the present time 334 registered vehicles on each of the 72,394 miles of completed Federal-aid highways. Based on the average annual increase in registrations during 1929 there will be 307 vehicles for each mile of highway and the Federal Government will expend next year, in Federal-aid, $2.98 for each vehicle on the highways.

The following figures, compiled by the association, show the relative number of automobiles to each mile of Federal-aid highways and the amount of Federal-aid expended each year per capita from the inception of the Federal-aid program in July, 1916, to the present date and with estimates for 1929:

Year	Autos per Mile of Federal- Aid	Miles of Federal- Aid	Federal- Aid Per Auto
1918	491,729	12.5	$ 1.00
1919	59,970	189.3	1.62
1920	10,196	903.4	10.29
1921	2,751	3,803.9	9.55
1922	918	13,823.2	6.12
1923	648	23,297.1	3.31
1924	542	32,452.3	3.69
1925	476	41,893.3	3.75
1926	418	52,626.6	3.40
1927	360	64,210.0	3.21
1928	334	72,394.0	3.10
*1929	307	81,750.0	2.98

MEASLES EPIDEMIC THREATENS ILLINOIS

Disease Is Dangerous To Children Under Three Years Of Age.

Springfield, January 10.—Fight off measles from children under three years old. This is the plea of Dr. Isaac D. Rawlings, state health director who pointed out in a forecast here today that measles is apt to prevail in epidemic proportions throughout the state during the next three or four months and that two-thirds of the 3286 persons who have succumbed to that disease in Illinois since 1918 were less than three years old. Prevent exposure if possible and use protective serum if necessary are the methods of prevention recommended.

"Every available sign indicates that measles will be widespread in Illinois from now until April or May," Dr. Rawlings said, "the prevalence increasing as the winter advances. Last year less than 10,000 cases occurred within the whole 12 months, the lowest incident on record. This makes strongly probable a return wave of 1929 and a sharp advance in case reports which rose from 25 weekly in September to more than 300 weekly in December emphasizes in same prospects."

"A disease, usually of trifling consequences in healthy children older than five years, measles is a serious infection to youngsters under three. Out of 3286 deaths from measles in Illinois during the last ten years 2164, or 66 per cent were of children less than 3 years old. Another 247 were in their third year bringing the ratio under four up to 74 per cent. Considerably less than one-half of all cases occur among children under four. Plainly the hazard of measles is great for this age group."

"Preventing exposure is the most important way of protecting young children against measles. Since the first symptoms of measles during its most contagious stage, strongly resemble a cold this can only be done by keeping children with colds away from those free from colds. Droplets that escape from the nose and throat are the materials that spread measles from one to another."

"Through your physician a protective serum is available to thwart an attack in young children unfortunate enough to be exposed. Blood or blood serum drawn from a person convalescing from measles and injected into an exposed child will prevent or significantly modify an attack of measles, the result depending upon the date of injection after exposure. Goat serum for this purpose is also available. The immunity established by serum is only temporary, however, so that protection from subsequent exposures is again essential."

"Pneumonia is the danger that lurks behind an attack of measles. It is pneumonia which most frequently brings fatal termination in mortality from measles. With the wide prevalence of pneumonia that now prevails in the state, the avoidance of measles wherever possible and particular care of patients who do get it are of extraordinary importance."

TWO FORMER WILMOT RESIDENTS SUCCUMB

Relatives have received word of the death of Mrs. John Mayso, Whitewater. Her death, December 29, was due to pneumonia. Mrs. Mayso will be remembered in this vicinity as Mabel Renyard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Runyard. She was born near Wilmot, January 12, 1884. She received her early education in the Wilmot schools and later attended Whitewater Normal school. For eight years she was a teacher in the public schools of Kenosha county. September 22, 1909, she was married to John E. Mayso. Besides the widower there are three children, Rosella, Earle, and Grace.

Mrs. Mayso also leaves her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Runyard, three sisters, Mrs. James Cragg, Ingleside; Mrs. John Menier, Mrs. Paul Brinkman, Wilmot, and one brother, Howard, Wilmot. Funeral services were held from the M. E. church at Whitewater, Monday afternoon.

Fred Boulden, Burlington, died Saturday, December 29, of pneumonia. Funeral services were held Tuesday, January 1, at the McCarthy Funeral Home, with the Rev. Ross Conner in charge. Interment was in the family plot in the Wilmot cemetery.

Mr. Boulden was born in Wilmot and educated in the public schools here. In 1903 he went to Burlington and worked for some time in the Wisconsin Condensed Milk company plant. Then he started the Boulden Grocery store and also owned the Boulden Cab and Transfer company.

Mr. Boulden leaves his widow and one son, Harold; his mother, Mrs. Hanna Boulden, Wilmot; three brothers, W. S. Boulden, Phoenix, Arizona; Edward B. Boulden, Chicago; and E. J. Boulden, Appleton; four sisters, Mrs. Oliver Mathews, Antioch; Mrs. Madison Ballantine, Butte, Montana; Mary Boulden, Wilmot; and Mrs. J. Benth, LaCrosse.

Mrs. Ward, Twin Lakes, entertained the Hillside club Saturday afternoon. Those present were: Mrs. Dolores Brownell, Milwaukee; Mrs. George Faulkner, and Mrs. Alfred Reynolds.

Mrs. Harry McDougall, Alice Mc-

Dougal, and Donald Horrick motored to Milwaukee, Friday.

Mrs. A. Winn and son, Lorenzo, have returned from Des Moines, Iowa, where they spent the holidays.

Mrs. Lena Hazelman fell and broke her leg last Saturday in her home south of Wilmot.

Mrs. Arthur Haldorf and Miss Doris Ginzlin were in Kenosha Thursday.

There will be English services at the Lutheran church at 10:30 o'clock Sunday.

Arthur Haldorf and Clarence Loth transacted business in Milwaukee, Thursday.

The Pirte team has begun intensive training after a slack period during the holiday season. Coach M. M.

Schnurr returned and had the entire squad out Wednesday evening. The next game will be Friday when the Pirates meet the Waterford team in the Wilmot High school gymnasium.

Union Free High School Notes

School was resumed Monday, January 7, after a two week's vacation. Three weeks remain in the first semester which ends January 25. Final examinations will be given Thursday and Friday, January 24 and 25. Due to the lengthy holiday vacation and another vacation in the spring the second semester will end June 14.

Mr. and Mrs. George Deano have returned from Grayslake having spent several weeks with their daughter, Mrs. A. Smith.

Simplicity of cooling system is a feature of the new Ford

A COMPLETE water plant is a part of every automobile as it is a part of every modern city.

The purpose of this water plant is to keep the engine cooled to a temperature that will make it efficient in operation. If it were not for this, the cylinder walls would become overheated and the pistons refuse to operate.

The cooling system of the new Ford is particularly interesting because it is so simple and reliable.

When the radiator is full of water, the engine of the new Ford will not overheat under the hardest driving. Yet the water is so regulated that it will not impair engine operation by running too cold in winter.

The cooling surface of the Ford radiator is large, with four rows of tubes set in staggered position so that each receives the full benefit of the incoming air. The fan is of the airplane propeller type and draws air through the radiator at the rapid rate of 850 cubic feet per minute at 1000 revolutions per minute of the motor.

The hot water around the cylinder head is drawn to the radiator to be cooled by a centrifugal water pump of new design.

The entire cooling system of the new Ford is so simple in design and so carefully made that it requires very little attention.

The radiator should be kept full, of course, and drained once each month so that sediment will not collect and retard the free passage of water. In cold weather, a reliable anti-freeze solution should be added.

As owner and manager of this important water plant you should also see that the water pump and fan shaft are properly lubricated and the packing around the pump shaft kept in adjustment.

Hose connections may also need replacement after long service. For these little adjustments, it pays to call on the Ford dealer.

He works under close factory supervision and he has been specially trained and equipped to do a thorough, competent job at a fair price.

STUNTS AND CARDS FORM ENTERTAINMENT

Probably at no party in recent months, have all formalities been cast aside, as at the American Legion auxiliary party held Friday night at the home of Mrs. Mary Mana, who lives east of Antioch. Twenty-two persons were present.

The auxiliary has been having a membership campaign and the party was given by the losing team for the winning team, while the losers received mirth-provoking gifts—anything from necklaces of cranberries to—well, anything! Balloons played a big part in the evening's celebration.

Following the stunts, cards were played. Prizes were awarded Mrs. Betty Mortenson, Mrs. Mary Chase, Miss Alice Goldy, and Mrs. Eva Kaye.

TWELVE MOTHERS GO TO CLUB MEETING

Discussion leader at the meeting of the Mother's club at the home of Mrs. L. O. Bright Tuesday afternoon, was Mrs. W. C. Petty. Twelve mothers and eight children were present.

The next meeting of the club is to be at the home of Mrs. Petty, with Mrs. Fred Blackett as discussion leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smart are announcing the birth of a daughter. The child was born in Victory Memorial hospital, Waukegan, Tuesday.

Mrs. Lena Holmes will return to her home in Philadelphia early next week, after being in this community for some time because of the illness of her father, John Drury, who died last week.

If you want a warm coat or overcoat come in and make Chase Webb an offer.

Miss Alice Goldy has returned to home in Algonquin after spending several days with her sister, Mrs. George Garland.

Don't forget that Clyde Wentworth's new sandwich shop across from the postoffice will be informally opened Friday.

Miss Ardis Toft has been visiting Miss Anna Halbert, Oak Park, the last week. She attended many theater parties while there.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Halbert and daughter, Miss Anna, Oak Park, visited Mr. and Mrs. Peter Toft and family Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Petersen and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Downette, Waukegan, visited Mr. and Mrs. Peter Toft Sunday.

Miss Katherine Krali returned Sunday night to Bloomington where she is attending Illinois Wesleyan university. Miss Krali was home for the Christmas holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Pollock spent Saturday in Chicago.

The Rev. A. M. Krali returned late last week from Columbus, Ohio, where he was attending a psychoanalysis conference.

Mrs. George Kuhlaupt spent Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ray Thompson.

Ira Woodward has returned from a vacation trip in Wisconsin.

Beggar King Pleases As Opening Lyceum Number in Antioch

Long after the show was over strains of "For I'm the Vag-Vag-Vag-Vagabond" kept ringing in the ears of the persons who attended the presentation of "The Beggar King" in the Antioch high school auditorium Monday night.

This romantic musical play was given by the Tooley Opera company, and was the opening number of the lyceum course being sponsored by the high school. The theme around which the play is written is a most delightful one—a theme familiar to American audiences.

Howard Tooley as Francois Villon, poet and housebreaker, not only had the leading and title role, but he portrayed his part better than any other member of the company. Mr. Tooley's voice is rich and pleasing. He lived his role. Only at times, when others were singing, did he seem to over-act. But he is an artist.

Excepting Mr. Tooley, no one had as beautiful a voice as Mrs. Emma Dorsey who depicted the role of Lady Katherine. Mrs. Dorsey's diction was clear and clean cut. Her manner and her appearance were stately.

Quite in contrast to the dignity of Mrs. Dorsey, was the airy, flippant style of the role of Cosette, taken by Miss Ethel Schuytner. Miss Schuytner won her audience immediately.

Floyd Dorsey, as King Louis, handled his part well. It was a role which is difficult, inasmuch as it is not a character part, is not humorous role, and has no special appeal.

Honors for comedy go to Jim Edwards as Jacques, barber to the king. The way in which he silently entertained his audience is especially commendable. Miss Doris Mason as Fat Margot, inn-keeper, was a greedy, unattractive person. Arkolides, a wise man from the east, it seems to this writer, is certainly deserving of his name on the program.

If all numbers of the lyceum course prove to be as entertaining as "The Beggar King," certainly everyone should attend.—V. L. B.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETS AT ANTLERS HOTEL

Readings by Mrs. A. G. Watson, Mrs. Pearl Powles, Mrs. W. H. Osmond, and Miss Elizabeth Webb featured the meeting of Antioch Woman's club held in the Antlers hotel Monday afternoon. Following the business meeting, a sociable period was enjoyed. Sixteen were present.

Samuel Tarbell left Friday for Florida, where he will spend the winter months. The condition of John Didama, who has been in a Waukegan hospital, is reported to be improved.

Lester Nixon returned to his school in Bloomington Sunday night. Mrs. Adolph Pesat was in Waukegan Tuesday.

If you want a warm coat or overcoat come in and make Chase Webb an offer.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Keulman attended the funeral of the latter's sister, Mrs. Pearl Pitts, at Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin, Wednesday. Mrs. Pitts died Sunday following a brief illness.

Miss Renotto Yanko, Chicago and Champaign, was an end of the week visitor at the Winslow home.

Mrs. Edmonds is ill with influenza at her home with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wentworth.

Redhots, soups and sandwiches will be served at Clyde Wentworth's new sandwich shop, beginning Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Harris have returned from Chicago after spending several months in the city where Mr. Harris was taking treatments for rheumatism. His condition is much improved.

Watch for the new model Majestic radio at King's Drug store. The date will be announced soon.

LIBERTYVILLE PLANS TO HAVE BAND AGAIN

Plans to raise funds to re-organize the Libertyville band, were made last week at a meeting of the Libertyville Chamber of Commerce.

The band of Libertyville was famous throughout the district during the years that it was in existence. There has been no such musical organization in the community since 1922, however. If a band can be re-organized, it is planned to submit the municipal band tax at the spring election, with a view to making it a village organization with sufficient funds to guarantee its perpetuity.

FREE EDUCATION.

Diphtheria prevention provides a free college education for the persons whose lives it saves. It every baby in the State were immunized against diphtheria at six months of age, 5,000 cases of that disease would be prevented each year and 500 lives saved. Since the economic loss will average at least $100 per case, the prevention of 5,000 cases would save $500,000 which is sufficient to keep 500 persons in college for a year. Thus—prevent diphtheria and give a child a free education.

Imagine 18 Yards in One Dress! Late Paris Fashion Decried in '72

There is first a skirt bordered with two knife-plaitings, headed by an embroidered galeon trimming. A jacket is worn over a plaited chemise of muslin, which is lined with flannel. For the average-sized six-year-old girl, only four yards of galeon will be required. Four dozen buttons. The writer continues that "all these are late Paris styles and not the second-rate costumes offered elsewhere."

And Embroidery, Too

One illustration shows the latest thing in embroidery for trimming veils and fichus. The net is tacked on stiff paper and the flowers are run on in floss silk, the design having been previously sketched on the paper. The outlines of the flowers are marked with flosselle of a contrasting color. The dots between are worked in satin stitch, and a line of double silk serves as a binding.

A Fancy Foot-stool

An effective foot-stool is worked in coarse wool on soldier's cloth, but artistic serge may be used with equal advantage. The ground is dark red cloth, and the cover is octagon in shape. Braids add to the beauty and give a finishing touch.

"And would you think that there is a most elaborate design for a clock for a stocking? The designs for darning on net are exquisite."

The editor wrote: "To those of our subscribers who live in the country we suggest that very pretty flowers be made from feathers found in the barnyard. The pure white ones have a beauty of their own while many of the others can be dyed to any shade, and when finished, are useful for wearing in the hair or for vases for the dining room or the drawing room. The feathers must be well-secured to wire with cotton, and all stems covered with green paper."

The book review corner, where the newest books are reviewed, carried articles about "The Wolf at the Door," "That Lover of Mine," "The Phantom Wedding," and a group of short stories by Ella Wheeler.

Emily Post, Perhaps?

In the etiquette section, the head of the etiquette department says that for evening parties, dark woolen or silk dresses may be worn, and if a silk under-skirt can be afforded, so much the better. Trains can be as long as an ambitious girl can desire, and the dress trimmed as much as good taste will permit. Even in evening parties the dress, cut low on the shoulders, is not always worn, although it usually is, for many persons fear to make the change from high to low neck, lest they catch cold. The head-dress may be as elaborate as becomingness will permit.

A Little Of Everything

One column in one of the issues is devoted to "a chat about fans." In a cook's column one could learn to make lamb pie, potato cakes, stewed cabbage, and veal soup. Pancakes are listed among desserts. There follow paragraphs on how to remove warts, how to remove moles, and how to mend china.

The music printed gave the newest popular "hits" such as "Douglas, Tender and True," "Touch the Harp Gently," "Meet Me in the Twilight," and one month Mozart's Minuet was published.

IS COASTING VICTIM

Fatal injuries were received Friday by Albert Stornis, 9, Waukegan, when a sled on which he was being towed by an automobile, crashed into the side of a Waukegan street car. The boy was taken to Victory Memorial hospital immediately following the accident, but he did not die until Monday morning.

LEGION IS HELPING SALVATION ARMY DRIVE IN ANTIOCH

Goal Of $250 Set For This Community; Campaign Starts Monday.

Through the American Legion Post of Antioch a drive for the Salvation Army is being conducted.

There is a mistaken notion that all who are at the bottom, socially and economically, deserve to be there; that, if they tried everybody would help them along; that poverty is a disease which is the sufferer's own fault, and no amount of treatment by charitable agencies will cure. That is a notion which, like many other notions, is based upon a superficial view of this situation—a generally based upon individual cases.

There is a bit of wisdom attributed to the Salvation Army: "It's no use to lecture a man on an empty stomach." The first necessity of the bitterly poor is relief—food, heat, shelter and clothing. The next is a job and a self-respecting mental viewpoint.

The truth about poverty is that most people are not interested. We know it exists, but we seldom get the idea that it requires our personal attention. That's somebody else's business.

Lake county has one organization which is always interested in a man, no matter how far down he may have drifted. The Salvation Army acts upon its idea that it's no use to lecture a man on an empty stomach. It performs the immediately necessary service of feeding him. Then it tries and tries and tries, without discouragement at repeated failures, to appeal to his self-respect and his inherent spark of manhood, trying to build up that mental attitude, which will lift him into the great body of useful citizens.

"So long as we love, we serve." So long as we are loved by others, I would almost say we are indispensable; and no man is useless while he has a friend," wrote Stevenson.

The Salvation Army loves the common people; the poverty stricken, the mentally depressed, because they are people, creations of the Deity "even as you and I." Because it loves, it serves, because it is loved, it is indispensable. And no man is useless while the Salvation Army holds out its arms and its promise of aid and comfort to the physical and the spiritual man.

The Salvation Army is asking Antioch for its annual budget. The drive starts Monday, for $250.00. It's no use to discuss what goes with the money. Everybody knows the self-sacrifice, the genuine desire to be of service, the practical religion that characterize the Army workers. They do what the rest of us have no time to do at all and no fitness to do effectively. They are entitled to get and will get our support.

COMPARATIVELY FEW TEACHERS IN COUNTY GET LESS THAN $800

This District Ranks Fourth In State, Statistics Disclose.

One and three-tenths per cent of school teachers in Lake county receive less than $800 a year, according to an announcement made this week by F. O. Blair, Illinois superintendent of public instruction.

Ten years ago in Lake county there were 387 teachers, 234 or 60.7 per cent of whom were teaching for less than $800. All salaries, then, however, were lower than salaries paid today. In Wayne county today 83.9 per cent of the teachers do not receive as much as $800 for a year's work, and many counties have 50 per cent of the instructors working for less than $800.

Lake county's record is surpassed by only three of the 102 counties of Illinois. Cook county, with 15,833 teachers, has only 32 earning less than $800; Winnebago county is second with 718 teachers, eight of whom receive less than $800, and Macon county has only seven of its 647 teachers in the low wage class. In the entire state there are 46,014 teachers. Thirteen and seven-tenths per cent or 6,353 receive less than $800.

session of the Senate and House of Representatives.

At 7 o'clock in the evening, a public reception will be held at the Executive Mansion, at which Governor and Mrs. Emmerson, with other state officers and their wives will receive.

The Hamilton club of Chicago sponsors a ball which will be given at the Arsenal, beginning at 9 o'clock on the evening of the inauguration.

Officers of the National Guard and Naval Militia will give a dinner at 5 o'clock at which the Governor will be a guest.

Many organizations from all parts of the state are giving dinners early in the evening prior to the reception. Friends of Secretary of State William Stratton from Lake county, will give a dinner in his honor at Abraham Lincoln hotel.

Also the Stubbs Club of Chicago will entertain at the Abraham Lincoln hotel.

A large number of business men, prominent in the political line of the great West Side in Chicago, will entertain at the Leland hotel, where they have made extensive reservations.

Numerous parties, composed of members of the Hamilton club and the Union League club of Chicago, have engaged accommodations at several hotels and clubs in Springfield.

Advice for Progress Given by Financier

Fact finding committee of the Pure Milk association, and made some startling disclosures, among other facts that Chicago dealers are paying more for Minnesota milk than they offer the Illinois dairymen for a superior quality tested product, and the dealers are paying the freight. The condition is unfair and is merely a continuation of the dealers' policy to keep the farmer by forcing him to accept whatever price they see fit to pay. Mr. Kuttel expressed the belief that the milk industry in this state would eventually come under control of the utilities body, and stated that steps are being taken to that end.

Local Company Is Incorporated
The acquisition of the Antioch plant from the Broxham company two years ago and the history of the establishment of a market place here was told by R. C. Aht, who together with W. R. Williams and C. E. Shultz, purchased the plant and equipment two years ago. Later the company was incorporated and many prominent producers have become stockholders. "Dairymen of this locality are very fortunate in having a home market, especially at a time like the present," a prominent producer remarked today. Reports to the effect that the Antioch concern is not financially responsible and that some of the patrons of the local plant have not been paid are branded as malicious propaganda by dairymen who have been regular patrons here since the opening of the plant and who are enthusiastic over the cordial and business-like relations that have existed from the first. At present the local plant is the market place for 90 regular patrons, and at this time is marketing the output of about 50 producers who quit Bowman, Borden and other big dealers when they refused to pay the price of $2.35 per hundred asked by the Pure Milk association. Ray Winfield, chairman of the local organization, was delegate to the Woodstock meeting Wednesday when representatives of 7,000 dairymen met to discuss the situation. Mr. Winfield will give his report at a meeting at the high school tonight.

Other speakers last evening who expressed interest in the farmers' problems and in the continued successful operation of the local plant, were: Chase Webb, J. E. Brook, Dr. W. W. Warriner, S. E. Pollock, A. M. Kral, and Supt. James McKerrill of the dairy plant.

OBITUARY

John Drury, Antioch, died Thursday morning, January 3. He had been ill for nine weeks at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Dan Longman. Mr. Drury leaves two daughters, Mrs. Longman, Trevor, and Mrs. Lena Holmes, Philadelphia, besides eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mr. Drury was born in Fox Lake July 23, 1854. He was united in marriage to Miss Adelle Stanley, December 30, 1874. His wife preceded him in death five years ago. Mr. Drury resided in Antioch 54 years. He was highly respected and will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

Pallbearers at the funeral were Joseph Fillweber, Eugene Hawkins, William Gray, Jay Cribb, William Kelly and Harry Osmond.

was particularly disagreeable because we were in the midst of the heaviest shower of the afternoon, and while the car men worked under the back wheel in the deep mud, we amused ourselves by diverting the streams of water which slipped in through the seams of the canvas roof, attempting, rather unsuccessfully, to carry them over the side of the car by means of a rubber raincoat, which inconveniently doubled back now and then, quite impartially drenching the two gentlemen on that side and the cushions of the seat.

"Darkness came on, with the clear beautiful starlight of the southern sky, just as we began the ascent of a pass in a mountain ridge. About 8:30 in the evening we reached Cahita where we expected to spend the night. We were all very tired and hungry, and our driver had been on duty since the previous morning. To our dismay, we were told though we could get dinner at the little hotel, they had no vacant beds, and we must go on 50 miles farther to the next town. So after dinner we started again. We had not gone many kilometers when we came to a bridge being rebuilt, with another car stuck in the mud of the delour, so that we could not pass. Then we were told of a nearby German settlement where we might ask for shelter.

Among the five families there was a Prince and a Baron, they said, and this we found to be true. In spite of being awakened from their slumbers shortly before midnight, they received us most graciously, served us tea, and best of all, provided us with comfortable rooms for the night, and a good breakfast next morning.

"The roads were splendid on the last day of our travel," concludes Miss Minto, "the country green and beautiful. We spun along without a single mishap, stopping only long enough to purchase flannel foods for our noonday luncheon at a small town. It was about five when we finally reached Ballando, tired and happy after our 400 mile run."

ILLINOIS STUDENTS ARE TO RADIOCAST SATURDAY NIGHT

Some Of Best Talent On Campus Will Send Program Over Air.

Urbana, January 10—The thousands of Illinois radio fans who have never heard the University of Illinois station, WILU, will have a good opportunity late Saturday night—if they don't mind losing some sleep.

By special arrangement with the Federal Radio Commission, WILU will offer a varied program for an hour or more starting at 1 a. m., Central Standard Time. Most of the stations in the central west will have gone to bed before midnight Saturday, and so when the University broadcaster comes on it will have a rather cleared channel and hopes to reach its friends in all parts of the state. The wave length is 336.9 meters.

Some of the best musical talent on the campus will be heard. A quartet or two that equals most anything on the air, some soloists from the Concert band, others from the Glee club, good vocalists, pianists, and other such talent will be heard.

The University has operated a radio station since 1922 and for the last two years has been on the air an average of an hour and a half daily. However, because last year it was on a highly congested wave length and because this year its power has been limited by the Radio Commission to 250 watts after sundown, the station has never been heard by many of its owners—the taxpayers.

ARMY PLANE REMAINS UP FOR 150 HOURS; NEW RECORDS ARE SET

Question Mark Trip Proves That Refueling Theory Is Practical.

After remaining in the air for 150 hours, 40 minutes, and 14 seconds, and travelling 12,000 miles, the Question Mark, army monoplane trying for an endurance record, was forced to the ground.

For such a long period of continuous flying, it is felt that there has been a glorious triumph in the field of aviation. The plane was refueled by another plane. Neither the astounding distance nor endurance performances of the remarkable ship is regarded by her army sponsors as the prime accomplishment, however. That distinction went through proof of the theory that refueling of airplanes while in flight is practical—this army officers say, was the chief mission of the flight.

THEY WILL LIKE IT

Have you noticed how many birds there are in Antioch and surrounding communities? Have you thought about those birds since snow covers the ground? A great many persons are remembering the birds each day—and the birds are kept from starving and are made happy.

Some persons have nailed boards to the window sills of the dining room or kitchen. Cracked grain, cracked nuts, or other small particles of food will bring many birds to the window sill at all times of the day. Sparrows, redbirds, chickadees, and others of our feathered friends will become tame and will not fly away even if there are persons watching them eat from inside the window. Pieces of suet tied in branches of trees will also attract the birds.

Birds give great pleasure to everyone in the spring, summer, autumn, and winter. The comparatively few who remain during the cold months of the year should be remembered each day—regularly. Let's not forget the tiniest friends we have—the birds.

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION—

Throughout the country sympathy has been aroused as the story has been flashed from coast to coast of the automobile-train accident in Kenosha, in which several wealthy families were killed and injured.

All the mourning in the world, however, cannot bring back the dead—lives of those girls and boys still in their teens. These young persons were on a "treasure hunt"—they found death. They were all persons who had every opportunity in the world to obtain the best education possible and then to offer their services to the world. They would have become influential men and women had not their "treasure hunt" ended as it did. They were all happy and carefree. But now—

There had been much discussion regarding the inquiry and the probe. There was much discussion of the Vestris disaster. But what does it all amount to in the end? Death has come. Of course, justice should be meted to those to blame—if anyone is found responsible, but isn't the greatest thing of all just taking care? Just to avoid such tragedies? Avoiding and preventing—these are the keywords to happiness in the mad and hurry-scurry life of today.

JUST ANOTHER PASTIME

Everyone wonders because everyone is interested. About what? Well, it's being discussed in Antioch as well as other parts of the country—who will land berths in the cabinet of President-elect Herbert Hoover?

Morrow? Surely, says some one. But perhaps the listener is not so certain about Morrow, although—how about Donovan? Well, all one can do is to wait and see, but at least there will be talk of Davis, Funk, Good, Bornh, Fletcher, and Capper.

MEANS A GREAT DEAL

Where there is a will there is a way. The old adage tells us so, and one can't deny it in most cases. The will of a young young man or a young woman who is anxious to attend college but has absolutely no money, is interesting.

One often hears a mother or father say: "We'd like to have John go to college, but we just can't afford it." Such a statement is ridiculous. The case is pathetic. Can't afford to go to the university? The idea is preposterous. It is especially easy for a young man to get through school—providing the young man has the earnest desire. By "easy" we do not mean that his college life will be as though he were lying on a bed of roses. Oh, no! But the hardships will be offset by the eagerness.

Each year in this country hundreds—yes, thousands of youths who have started to school penniless, receive diplomas and degrees from colleges and universities.

The youth who works his way through school is a better educated man than the one who has funds handed to him. He knows the value of the dollar. He appreciates his education. He has not whiffled away his hours of study. He has made every minute count.

Various organizations have set aside funds, the interest from which is used as loans for deserving college students. Now the Rotary club of Waukegan will set aside $100 each year so that worthy boys may attend universities. It was voted last week that $10 from the dues of each member would be used as a beginning for the fund. Worthy, underprivileged students, who face the problem of not being able to continue school after high school graduation, will be permitted to borrow from the Rotary fund. The money is to be returned after the education is completed. The quickness of the return of the loan is to be based on the earning capacity of the student.

YOUR CHILDREN PERHAPS?

Children, as well as many adults, are delighted with the snow. Boys and girls are busy making snowballs and snow men as long as there is snow on the ground. Children of Antioch have been seen tying sleds to automobiles and trucks. This is dangerous. Cars approaching from the rear may strike the sleds and injure or kill the child. Perhaps the sled will coast under the wheels of the vehicle to which it is tied. Of course, the children enjoy riding, but this pleasure is not worth taking the chance.

Almost equally dangerous is the manner in which boys grab hold of milk wagons or other wagons, to be pulled down the street. Drivers cannot be blamed. Only the other day a driver of a local wagon was heard to admonish six and seven-year-old boys for "hanging" on to the wagon—the boys might fall and get struck by an approaching machine; their coats were dragging, getting wet, and perhaps the boys might take cold. To tell children not to hitch sleds to cars, or not to hang on to wagons will probably cause some grumbling and pouting in some homes, but it will be worth the grumbling and pouting. Perhaps a life may be saved.

ON A WINTRY DAY

The day is dark and gloomy. Outside, the ground is covered with crusted snow; A beggar woman huddles by. The window pane is frosted. All seems dark and cold. But I am happy. Within my heart is sunshine—For me the day is bright.

A New York woman posed for sixty years as a man and completely fooled the people of her home town. Wonder how she managed to keep quiet so long.

Rochester's power tied up for forty minutes the other day because a bird was pecking at a big electric cable. Evidently this bird was very fond of currents.

We have often wondered why they call blind tigers, "speakers." It has been our observation that the fellow who spends a little time in one of them finds speaking very difficult.

WE'D ALL THANK YOU

Probably the most popular persons in Antioch during the last week, were those persons who sprinkled ashes, sand or salt on the icy pavements. Wouldn't it be nice if everyone did it? Why not?

Mussolini now holds seven cabinet jobs and is now a cabinet majority in himself. The Italian slogan ought to be "As Mussolini goes, so goes the nation."

Our New Year's resolution is that we are going to economize this year by refraining from buying any steam yachts or taking any trips to Europe.

One beggar along Broadway makes $100 a day and employs a valet-secretary to look after his wants. And yet they say that the average New Yorker is too wise to be fooled.

Five men were killed in New York by escaping gas after a drinking party. We always suppose that a fellow who could survive modern booze wouldn't be affected by a little thing like gas in the atmosphere.

the holiday vacation. Some are still out with whooping cough and colds. Fred Hamlin fell from a scaffolding last week when it broke and he sustained a sprained ankle.

Miss Marguerite Manzer came home Monday from Waukegan where she is employed at the Potter Manufacturing company and is at her home this week with the flu.

Well, Christmas is over, but one would scarcely know it to look around Antioch... for there are still wreaths in the windows, Christmas trees on display, cotton and artificial snow in evidence, and other dashes of the holiday season. And do you suppose artificial wreaths will be seen grinning out the back windows of automobiles up until the Fourth of July when an American flag may be substituted?

We know of a mortuary establishment that sent candy to all of the interns in a large hospital. This is a gospel fact, and Old Eagle Eye thinks the situation looks mighty bad.

There is still a lot in this world for which to be thankful, and one of the greatest blessings is that the members of our flapper clan no longer wear the high, black, four-buckle goshes which were left flapping.

Everyone doesn't enter into the spirit of Christmas. Because of the many thefts of colored bulbs from the trees on the streets of Waukegan this Christmas, it has been decided to eliminate the trees next year and string lights along the downtown streets, out of the reach of petty thieves. Replacing stolen bulbs during the holiday season cost about $150 each day. Can you imagine that?

"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good" and the garages with wrecked cars have found that icy roads are profitable. Skaters have enjoyed the ice. Just think of skating right down Main street. And where water has been backed up in the slough down toward the depot, dozens were skating each afternoon this week.

BANKERS' ASSOCIATION WILL BEGIN CAMPAIGN TO STOP DEFRAUDING

To Try To Rid State Of Forgers And Confidence Men; Losses Great In 1928.

The Illinois Bankers' association is to institute immediately an intensive drive to rid Chicago and the state of forgers and confidence men utilizing bogus and forged checks in defrauding banks of record sums during 1928. Losses of Chicago banks alone from such crimes, according to the association have aggregated during last year approximately $431,460, as follows: Check forgeries, $356,460; bogus checks, about $75,000.

At the same time, officials of the association estimate that unreported losses sustained by business men, merchants and the public generally over the same period will exceed $4,000,000.

Because of the loss increases registered attributable to these crimes, the Illinois Bankers' association is mobilizing its protective system to which can be credited the enormous slash in bank robberies and burglaries during 1928.

According to officials of the association, there have been only 13 attacks staged on Illinois institutions last year. Five of these were unsuccessful. The remaining eight netted the criminals but $34,554.11.

The drastic move of the Illinois Bankers' association was deemed necessary when it became apparent that several highly organized groups were responsible for the enormous losses suffered by the Chicago institutions.

The association now maintains a clearinghouse in the secretary's office for the benefit of the banks. This clearinghouse collects and disseminates information relative to these types of criminals, and coordinates the forces for the prosecution of offenders when apprehended.

This clearinghouse makes possible the rapid distribution of this information so that when such crimes are reported, a "cross-check" can be made immediately in order to determine whether or not any clew can be secured as to the identity of the criminals.

While it is being operated exclusively for the information of the banks, nevertheless, each criminal caught reduces the hazard to the general public, and officials of the Illinois Bankers' association urge that business men and merchants co-operate by refusing to cash checks for strangers.

Officials of surety companies have informed the bankers that they must give more consideration to the forger situation. They point out that in virtually every instance where a bank has suffered a loss, no precautions toward identifying the customer were taken at the time the account was opened; they also recommend that more care be exercised in opening accounts for strangers and extreme caution in handling such accounts.

DECREASE IS SHOWN IN NUMBER LICENSES ISSUED IN COUNTY

Books Show 5,195 Couples Obtained Permission To Wed In 1928.

Slight decrease during the fiscal year, starting December 1, 1927, and ending on December 1, 1928, in the number of marriage licenses issued in Lake county in the office of the county clerk, in comparison with that of the previous year, is shown by statistics.

The records for the 12 months period this past year show 5,195 couples licensed to wed, while the year before 5,234 couples were granted marriage licenses, thus 39 less licenses were issued this year. However, it must be remembered that the fiscal year, December 1, 1926, to December 1, 1927, was a record breaking period, so the record this last year compared favorably.

Increases in Births, Deaths.
There were increases in both the births and deaths last year. There were 1,583 births this year and 1,448 persons born the previous year, an increase this year of 135. This year 1,005 persons died and the previous year 883, the increase in deaths being 122. This shows that there were 13 more births than deaths in 1928 in Lake county.

There was a decided drop in the number of cases in the County court this year. The criminal and civil cases combined aggregated 117 this year, while last year 238 cases were heard, the decrease this year being 121.

There were four more insanity cases in 1928, the number of insane people reaching 54 for the year.

During the year there were 15 feeble-minded cases, an increase of 7; 11 adoptions, an increase of 3, and one epileptic case, a decrease of one.

In 1927 there were 109 juvenile cases and this year, 139, an increase of 30.

The following are statistics:

	1928	1927
Marriage licenses issued	5,195	5,234
Births recorded	1,583	1,448
Deaths recorded	1,005	883
Juvenile cases filed	139	109
Insanity cases filed	54	50
Civil and criminal cases	117	238
Inheritance tax matters	54	59
Total number of property descriptions	126,277	117,635

INFLUENZA EPIDEMIC NOT CLASSED SEVERE

Representatives Of Health Departments and Medical Society Hold Meeting.

Representatives from the Illinois state department of health, the Chicago department of health, and the Chicago Medical society met a few days ago to discuss the influenza situation which exists throughout the state as well as the country.

A review of the situation shows that the major waves of this disease come at intervals of 20 to 30 years. The last major wave prior to this was the wave of 1918. Judging by past experience we do not expect another major wave until some time after 1938. But according to the history of the disease, secondary waves occur at intervals between the major waves. Some of these secondary waves have proven fairly serious.

It was the opinion of those present at this conference that Illinois is in a secondary wave of considerable importance. This wave began somewhere about March 15, 1928, and continued until about May 15. At that time the weather became definitely unfavorable for the continuance of the disease and it subsided. In the late autumn the disease again began to prevail. The rise appears to have started in the southwest, probably in California. It has spread from the southwest northward and eastward.

The reports from Illinois show that conditions in Chicago became somewhat abnormal about Thanksgiving. For the last two weeks the number of deaths per week has averaged more than 100 per week higher than in the corresponding weeks of 1927. The indications are that the number of deaths will increase somewhat further during the next week or two.

In Cook county outside of Chicago there has been no particular increase rate that is somewhat above the normal for this season. The disease is irregularly distributed in the county. There are foci in the south end and some in the north end. It is not moving as evenly across the county as did the epidemic of 1918.

In the state outside of Cook county there has been no particular increase in the death rate though there are some foci. It is anticipated that there will be some prevalence of the disorder in most sections of the state.

PLAN THREE GAMES ON WILMOT FLOOR FOR FRIDAY NIGHT

High School Teams And Pirates To Be Seen In Action.

Playing its third game in the new Southeastern Wisconsin High school conference, the Union Free high school basketball team, Wilmot, will meet the Waterford Five in the Wilmot gymnasium Friday night. Wilmot has won one and lost one game this season.

Captain Madden has not yet been able to report for practice, but with the return of Bloss and the work of Loftus, the guard position would be well cared for. Itsch will probably start as center for Wilmot, and Burton will hold down one of the forward positions. Either Bernhoff or Schreck will play the other forward position.

In past years, Wilmot has claimed six straight victories over the Waterford team, and Wilmot is anxious to add some more victories, while the Waterford boys are out for revenge. The second teams of the two schools will play at 7 o'clock. This is to be followed by the first teams game, and then the strong Waterford town team will meet the Pirates in what should be an unusually fast contest.

REMOVAL OF SNOW WILL SAVE MONEY

Snow removal on rural roads, largely made possible by the increasing mileage of pavement, will this year save the nation vast sums of money through elimination of business and social periods of hibernation. It is predicted.

Roughly, 125,000 miles of roads will be kept open throughout the five months in which heavy snowfalls may be expected. Five thousand or so snow removal outfits, consisting of tractors or trucks equipped with inquisitive snouts, together with preventative measures such as the placement of snow fences, will bring the snow removal cost to about one million dollars.

Yet this is considered by highway authorities to be a small outlay in consideration of the benefits that accrue to those communities keeping open their most important lines of communication.

Antioch and Gurnee Will Offer Contest Of Real Excitement

One of the long anticipated basketball games of the year will take place Friday night in the Antioch gymnasium when the teams from Gurnee come to repeat last year's performance.

Gurnee won the conference season trophy last year and handed two stinging defeats to Antioch, who still has such a memory of them that all efforts are being directed toward saving this memory with a pair of victories.

Coach Kellon, Warren, can be depended on to furnish plenty of new tricks to fool Antioch who has not seen Gurnee in action.

Coach G. G. Reed, Antioch, isn't saying much about the outcome of the game, but somebody would hear something if they happen to drop this game to Warren.

The Warren game always packs the gymnasium to the limit, and the spirit now exhibited indicates that the late-comers may be unfortunate.

Antioch journeyed to Lake Zurich last Friday night in the snow storm and came back with a pair of victories from the new-comers in the conference. The lightweights led by Down and Hogan went through to an easy 39 to 9 victory. The heavyweight game was a scoreless affair for the first five minutes, neither team being able to find the hoop while skating on the freshly oiled floor. After this period of acclimation, the Antioch boys opened up a dazzling attack that finally totalled 34 points while the airtight defense held the Ella boys to one basket and one free throw, a total of three points.

SPICEY CARD OFFERED ASTOURNY CONTINUES

Larry Levette and Fritz Behrens Will Stage Windup Bout.

Four championship and three elimination bouts are scheduled on the Antioch Palace card for Friday night—all bouts in the Lake County Championship tournament.

The windup bout is to be between Larry Levette, Waukegan, and Fritz Behrens, Lake Forest, when they tie into it to decide who will be the midweight champion of Lake county. This should be an exceptionally good fight, and fans are certain to see two "fighters that fight."

For the heavyweight championship of the county, two Waukeganites, Jerry Hall and Jesse Galtowny will contest. Felix Druba, another Waukegan man, and Grover Cleveland Alexander, North Chicago, will step in the ring for light heavyweight championship honors. In the welterweight class, Reuben Olson, Lake Forest, and the popular George Taylor, Waukegan, are to battle for honors.

The elimination bouts are as follows: Oscar O'Hannon, Waukegan, vs. Bobby Freeland, Waukegan, flyweight; Bud Labus, Waukegan, vs. Ralph Brown, North Chicago, light weight, and Bobby Juhrend, Deerfield, vs. Howard Craft, Graylake, featherweight.

"VARSITY"

With MARY BRIAN, CHESTER CONKLIN AND SUPERB CAST

Pop! Pop! Pop! Get Going. Step on it! Four years of youth at Princeton. Four years to grow. Beautiful, inspiring, Princeton—staunch friends, jolly, compulsive, romance under the campus elms, thoughtless years that speed.
